

Paulina Rubio – Biography

Paulina Rubio, a symbol of strength. A vibrant woman, an energetic and sensual hurricane, Paulina Rubio is already a global music icon who rejects stereotypes flowing with the wide variety of musical influences she experiences everyday. Raised between Mexico, Los Angeles and Spain, she has always been a free spirit.

Paulina started in the music business at a very young age, with the band Timbiriche, but her first solo release “LA CHICA DORADA” meant the definitive take off of her career. Her first success did not take long : she was crowned as The Queen of Latin Pop with her 2000 album “PAULINA” , selling over 3 million records worldwide and being nominated to the Grammy Awards as Best Latin Artist in 2001.

Her North American side did not take long to surface and “BORDER GIRL” was her Anglo Saxon consolidation, showing off all the influences she experienced in life. “PAU-LATINA” was the definitive blending result of all Paulina’s merging musical influences released in 2004.

“It was a musical workshop”, she admits regarding her work plenty of collaborations and experiments. A golden year for the “Golden Girl”, who climbed all the way up to the peak being the top selling Latin American artist in 2004. 2006’s “ANANDA” was another brilliant album.

It is by far her most autobiographical work as well as the album where she most actively participated, being involved in each and every part of the creative process. “ANANDA” another hit in Paulina’s career that achieved the platinum status in physical sales, contained Ni Una Sola Palabra (a Latin Billboard Awarded song), was a multiplatinum certificated. 2009 will see the release of her new album: “GRAN CITY POP”, an imaginary mega city where Paulina gathers in one sight some her musical and life experiences happened to her in the last past years in different cities of the world. These experiences have marked her life for ever and Paulina wishes to share them now in the shape of ten songs plenty of influences which have enriched this new stage in her career. Collaborators in the album are Estéfano, Chris Rodríguez, Cachorro López, Lester Méndez and Coti.

On Monday the 30th of March her new single CAUSA Y EFECTO will be premiered on radios worldwide, leading the release of her new album GRAN CITY POP set for June the 23rd in all the Latin American countries, USA and Spain.

PAULINA RUBIO FACTS

- GRAN CITY POP is Paulina’s 9th studio album.
- Paulina has sold 20 millions records worldwide.
- 5 of Paulina’s albums have achieved the Platinum status: Ananda, Pau-Latina, Paulina, 24 Kilates, La Chica Dorada.
- Paulina received the Platinum Award for sales exceeding one million copies.
- 5 of her 9 records have gone Platinum.
- Paulina has received multiple awards among them: Billboard Latino, MTV Latin America, Lo Nuestro Awards, People Magazine Awards, Oye Awards and Amigo Awards.
- Paulina performed at the Nobel Award Ceremony in 2006.
- Paulina was the first female host of the MTV Latin America Video Awards in 2005.