

STEVE-O

More recently, the Jackass team has had another huge hit with its second movie - Jackass: The Sequel, released in September, 2006. For Steve-O, this provided a perfect platform to expand his career as a solo artist. He successfully sold the USA Network on his very own, brand new, reality TV show, entitled Dr. Steve-O. This will start airing in October, immediately following WWE Monday Night Raw. Also on the launching pad is an all new DVD release, Steve-O: Paparazzi Stuntman, in which he invades the privacy of major celebrities, while overwhelming them with silly stunts and crazy antics. And if all that wasn't enough, he's recently signed an historic deal with Universal Records, to make a ridiculous rap album about "saving the world". This is currently in production, along with video clips to support the soundtrack. Steve-O is on fire!
