Correspondent

Celebrity insider and style maven Steven Cojocaru joined ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT, the #1 syndicated entertainment newsmagazine in the world, as a correspondent in 2003. Since his arrival, Cojocaru continues to provide exclusive interviews with the hottest celebrities while offering his one and only unique perspective on the latest fashions worn by the most-talked about stars on the red carpet.

Cojocaru has interviewed many of the industry's biggest stars, including Oprah Winfrey, Jennifer Lopez, Britney Spears, Halle Berry, Sarah Jessica Parker, Jennifer Aniston, Debra Messing, Hugh Grant, Usher and P. Diddy. He has also been a fixture on the red carpet at major media events, such as the Oscars, the Emmys, the MTV Movie Awards, the Video Music Awards, the Venice Film Festival, and even The 128th Annual Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show.

Last year, with the launch of ET's spin-off series, THE INSIDER, Cojocaru expanded his correspondent duties to also include this exciting new show, which premiered as the highest-rated debut of any newsmagazine in syndication since 1996, and continues to rank second only to ET in the genre. He also hosted the CBS primetime television special "Red Carpet Confidential," which revealed the beauty and style secrets of the stars.

A Montreal native, Cojocaru began his journalism career covering parties for the Canadian fashion magazine, Flare. In the early 1990s, he moved to Hollywood where he began writing Hot Shots, a syndicated fashion column which ran in more than 100 newspapers across North America.

Cojocaru was a weekly contributor for four years at NBC's "Today" show and served as People magazine's West Coast Style Editor, where he authored the magazine's popular column "Behind the Seams." He has also appeared in fashion and red carpet specials
